Necessary cookies: These cookies are required for the operation of the website. They are usually set due to processes requested by you, e.g. for data protection preferences, login, or filling forms. You can set your browser to block them or to warn you of these cookies but this may result in certain parts of the website not working correctly.

Comfort (functional) cookies: These cookies enable advanced functionality and personalization of the website. They may be set by us or third party providers that have linked services at our website. If you block these cookies part or all of these services may not work correctly.

Marketing cookies: These cookies help create user profiles to send out advertisements or to follow your activities on one or more websites, for similar marketing purposes. These may be used to create a profile from your interests and to show relevant advertisements to you on other websites. They do not contain direct personal data but are based on unique identifiers of the browser or device. If you disable these, you will get less targeted advertisements.

2. Cookies may enable for a website to recognize whether a user has already visited it and help identify which parts of the website are the most popular, which parts are used by visitors and how much time they spend there. By studying this, websites may be tailored to user needs and may provide even more varied user experience. Cookies may ensure that information appearing on subsequent visits of a user will fit user requirements.
3. RI Management retains the right to unilaterally modify the Policy with the modifications taking effect immediately thereafter, observing all related provisional restrictions and notifying all data subjects in a timely manner where appropriate. Modification of the Policy may be required especially in cases when changes in related provisions, data protection authority practices, business or employee needs occur, or newly identified security threats appear. RI Management will send the current version of the Policy at the user's request.
4. Users may set their web browser to accept or reject all cookies, or to notify the user of new cookies on their computers. All web browsers are different so the Help menu may assist in modifying cookie settings. The website was created to be used with cookies so rejecting them may affect its usefulness and prevent users from utilizing all of its advantages.
